

Dragonfly Diary

Week of: Feb. 6, 2012

This week's top 5:

- Hope you and your child have been listening to our new Music Together CD. Please enjoy the CD in your car and at home. Many of the children are becoming familiar with our new songs.
- This weekend: "Breakfast for the King & Me," Sat., Feb. 11th, 9:00 - 10:30 a.m. Enjoy a fun morning with your Dad or an adult special friend. Also, on Sunday, Feb. 12th, the preschoolers will be singing in the Sunday church service, 9:00 a.m.
- February chapel will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 14th. Our offerings, for February, will be going to "Hearts for Jesus." If your child would like their little jar back, after collecting their offerings, please write their name on the cover of the jar. Mr. Zabransky will drill them. They make great bug jars!
- Tuesday, February 14th will be our Valentine's Day party. If you would like to be a party helper, please let Mrs. Zabransky know. As of now, we only have one helper. Please send your child's valentines to school Tuesday morning. If you would like to send something for your child to share, please refrain from candy. Pencils, stickers, play dough, rings or other little trinkets are possibilities. Our classroom has 14 students. The children will be passing out their valentine's during our party time and I will be mailing Trent his valentines. Parents are welcome! The party begins at 10:30 a.m.
- Just a few reminders...please be sure to clean out your child's backpack or book bag. When trying to send papers and projects home, it is a little difficult to do when their bags are SO full. Also, please have your child leave their toys from home, at home, unless they have the sharing bag. And finally, if you arrive in the classroom, before Mrs. Zabransky, please feel free to sit in the story corner and share a book.

It's almost here... Happy Valentine's Day!!!

Mrs. Zabransky, Mrs. Clouston and the 4 year olds too!
